

The AMS/CBM Seal program was upgraded several years ago, designed to keep meteorologists current on the state of 'weather science.'

The first wave of the new Seal recipients is now approaching the deadline to submit Professional Development and Professional Experience (PDS) points.

I will take you step by step through the process of submitting your PDS points by showing you some strategies I found very useful.

I will also discuss whether the current number of collective PDS points emphasizes enough 'continuing education.'